

Elaine Staats, MPH

Chief Executive Officer

Ms. Staats is the Chief Executive Officer of PAVIR, a leading organization dedicated to advancing Veteran and public health through innovative research. She has over 20 years of experience in research administration and is committed to advancing PAVIR's mission through strategic partnerships, innovative programs, and dedicated advocacy. Elaine enjoys process improvement, the development of investigators through the arc of their career span, and knowing that she is serving those who have served.

Prior to joining PAVIR in 2010, Elaine managed a clinical Division in the Department of Medicine at the Stanford University School of Medicine for ten years and brings deep understanding of the partnership between Stanford and VA which drives innovative research and clinical care. Elaine was the 2019 winner of the Board of Directors Distinguished Service Award from the National Association of Veterans' Research and Education Foundations (NAVREF). She holds bachelor's degrees in Animal Physiology & Neuroscience as well as Sociology from the University of California, San Diego and an MPH from the University of California, Los Angeles.

Lisa Clark

Director of Human Resources

Lisa Clark joined PAVIR in September of 2018 as Director of Human Resources. Lisa has 25 years of increasingly responsible Human Resources service delivery and leadership experience. Prior to joining PAVIR, Lisa held Human Resources leadership roles in various industries including medical device, technical service, software, and defense. Lisa's experience spans all specialties within HR including organizational planning, strategic partnerships, employee development, total rewards, talent acquisition, and employee engagement and relations.

Lisa holds a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science from the University of Pennsylvania and a Master of Science in Human Resources Management and Organizational Behavior from Golden Gate University. Ms. Clark enjoys bringing process improvement to organizations as well as focusing on employee engagement.

Lily Ibragimov

Director of Finance & Accounting

Lily Ibragimov joined PAVIR in 2008 as Controller and was promoted to the position of Director of Accounting in 2018. Ms. Ibragimov manages all accounting functions at PAVIR including revenue recognition and collection, cash disbursement and cash management, internal controls, financial statement and income tax preparation, financial analysis and projection, audit and federal financial reporting, and related policies and procedures. Lily has more than 20 years of extensive accounting and finance experience in both for-profit and not-for-profit sectors.

Ms. Ibragimov has a bachelor's degree in economics from Technological Institute of Odessa, Ukraine and Master of Business Administration degree from San Jose State University. She is an active certified public accountant (CPA) in the state of California since 2005 and continues her professional education in areas related to not-for-profit accounting, audit and finance.

Allison Malate

Director of Sponsored Research

Allison Malate started her PAVIR journey as a Contract and Grant Analyst in 2010. Since then, she has held various roles within the Contracts and Grants Department and has over 17 years in research administration. She enjoys assisting investigators in furthering their novel ideas through research and education. Allison strongly believes in thoughtfully equipping research administrators for success so that they can better serve the research community. As such, she is purposeful in providing coaching and mentoring as part of her leadership of the Contracts and Grants team.

Allison has a bachelor's degree in Business Administration from the University of California, Riverside and an MBA from the University of Redlands.

Patrick Richards

Associate Director of Finance & Operations

Patrick Richards joined PAVIR in 2024 as Associate Director of Finance & Operations. Patrick is a leader of strategic business planning, development, implementation, and evaluation.

Patrick brings extensive experience in nonprofit finance, including budgeting, procurement, and reporting for federally funded programs. He supports PAVIR's mission of advancing Veteran and public health through innovative research, with a focus on operational excellence and strategic resources allocation.

Patrick has a Bachelor of Science from North Park University in Chicago, a certificate of Financial Planning and Analysis from UC Berkeley Extension and earned his Six Sigma Black Belt in 2023.